Verse 1:

Staring down at a pale blue square of light.
I go left, go left, go right.
The past was dim, the future's bright.
You and I barely know each others name.

Never seen you face to face,
but to win you gotta play the game

Chorus:

And we know hearts will break,
But as a single in the information age
this city is my oyster
I'll go on every date. that. I'd. like.
I'll settle down some day but probably not tonight.

Verse 2:

Love is in the air every day when I walk the streets.
It comes in waves, my phone it beeps
let's grab a coffee I'd love to meet.
